DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,450,692 to Ruibal.

Regarding Claim 7, Ruibal teaches a cemetery flower holder comprising a shaft (Ruibal Fig. 6 #14) and multiple elongated extensions (Ruibal fig. 6 #16 and 58) extending outwardly from the shaft, the extensions being vertically deformable and disposed substantially 90 degrees with respect to the shaft, the shaft comprising a base shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 below element #48) and an upper shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 above #48) with a disc (Ruibal Fig. 3 #30) disposed there between, the disc comprising an outer edge, and a pair of straps extending upwardly from the outer edge (Ruibal Fig. 6 4 vertical side members of element #48).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-5 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,450,692 to Ruibal in view of French Patent FR 2620591 to Roder.

Regarding Claim 1, Ruibal teaches a cemetery flower holder (Ruibal Fig. 5 #12 and 48) for insertion into a cemetery vase (this language is merely intended use and the structure of Ruibal must merely be capable of insertion into a vase which it is) comprising a shaft and multiple elongated vertically deformable extensions (Ruibal Fig. 6 #14, 16, and 58) extending outwardly from the shaft and being disposed substantially 90 degrees thereto said extensions adapted to deform by contact with the inner surface of said vase (this language merely suggests that the structure be capable of that function and does not positively claim insertion or combination with the vase, and Ruibal's structure is capable of this function), said extensions being respectively horizontally and vertically spaced, a base shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 below element #48) and an upper shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 above element #48) with a disc (Ruibal Fig. 3 #30) disposed there between.

Ruibal is silent on a foam insert substantially enveloping the upper shaft. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the teachings of Ruibal by placing the foam of Roder (Roder English translation page 5 line 8) in Ruibal (Ruibal #48) for the advantage of arranging cut flowers in a vertical array.

Regarding Claim 3, Ruibal as modified teaches the end of the upper shaft remote from the disc is enlarged (Ruibal fig. 2 #26 attaches to #14 and thus enlarges the width of the shaft).

Regarding Claim 4, Ruibal as modified by Roder teaches the disc comprises an upper surface and wherein at least one prong extends upwardly from the upper surface (Roder Fig. 4).

Regarding Claim 5, Ruibal as modified teaches the disc (Ruibal Fig. 5 bottom of element #48) comprises an outer edge and wherein a pair of straps extend upwardly from the outer edge (Ruibal Fig. 6 4 vertical side members of element #48).

Regarding Claim 9, Ruibal teaches a cemetery flower holder (Ruibal #48) and a container/pot (Ruibal Fig. 1 #17) comprising a shaft (Ruibal Fig. 6 #14) and multiple elongated vertically deformable extensions (Ruibal Fig. 6 #16 and 58) extending outwardly from the shaft substantially 90 degrees thereto with the ends thereof in abutment with the inner surface of the container/pot and said extensions are deformed (this limitation inherently merely depends on the size of element #17 selected, the extensions are capable of deforming for a tight friction fit) said shaft comprising a base shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 below #48) and an upper shaft (Ruibal Fig. 5 #14 above #48) with a disc (Ruibal Fig. 3 #30) disposed there between, said disc comprising an upper surface.

Ruibal is silent on at least one prong extending upwardly from the upper surface. However, Roder teaches a plant support attached to a disc with a prong extending from the upper surface of the disc (Roder #4). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the teachings of Ruibal with the teachings of Roder at the time of the invention for the advantage of securing foam to the disc for floral displays as taught by Roder.

Ruibal as modified teaches a container/pot, but is silent on explicitly teachings a vase. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to further modify the teachings of Ruibal at the time of the invention since the modification is merely the selection of an old and notoriously well-known alternate equivalent container selected for a desired aesthetic appearance and does not present a patentably distinct limitation.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-5, 7 and 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

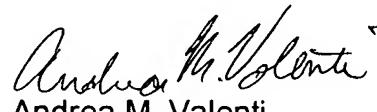

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
